He intently titled his speech, "Fortune Telling." The meeting was presided over by Bill Parke, president. The next speaker is to be Nicholas B. Harris, famous Los Angeles detective.

Members of the Anti-Saloon League spoke to both the G. A. A. and the club on Monday, April 3. He took charge of the meetings and conducted them in an open forum style. He urged the students to ask questions concerning the prohibition question. Mr. Neuman presented many good arguments for the 18th amendment.

Registration cards for the first 10 weeks were given out Friday, April 8.

The school paper is to be issued only every two weeks because the first shop is busy putting out the annual.

Two model displays have been shown in the show case of the sewing room during the last two weeks. One was three beautiful

Torrance Cees May Be Champs of This Division

At the triangular meet held at Gardena on Friday, the Gardena track team placed first with 58 points. Narbonne was a close second with 52, and Torrance trailed with 18 points. On Friday, April 15, Torrance will meet Bell in the last Marine League meet of the season.

Preliminaries in the A and C divisions will be held at Bell on Tuesday, April 19, with preliminaries in the B division at South Gate on Tuesday, April 26. The Torrance varsity, or A division, has had a poor season, due to the fact that the squad was so small that only one man could be entered in an event instead of two or three which would have given the team a chance at first, second and third places. Pete Zamperini, half-miler, was the outstanding performer of the A division, with a record of 2 minutes and 6 seconds or better.

Finals for A and C will be run off at Bell on Friday, April 22, and the B finals will be held at South Gate on the 29th. The Torrance Class C team, which has had a very successful career, is looked upon as a contender for the championship in their division. The Cees have some good men and a fairly large turn-out.

Famous Dog Actor Killed By Accident, Dog Troupe Mourns

There was mourning in the little dog troupe belonging to J. J. Kennedy, yesterday, for one of the little troupers was gone. A passing automobile had snuffed out the life of Riley, famous slack wire performer, and his pals were very sad.

Riley, four years old, and the star performer of the act, was perhaps the only dog in the United States, or perhaps in the world, which could successfully perform the difficult feat of walking along a nine-foot slack wire, and he had attracted great attention wherever the Kennedy Shows have exhibited.

Riley was laid away in a little grave back of the Modern Sign shop Wednesday after funeral services befitting his importance. A little hearse drawn by Ted and Mick, his fellow dog actors, carried his body to the grave. A beautiful wreath of flowers donated by the Poppy Flower Shop covered his casket. Some 200 spectators watched the final ceremonies that closed Riley's earthly career.

Report Yellowtail Caught Off Barge

HERMOSA BEACH.—Numerous yellowtail strikes were reported here yesterday by anglers returning from the big Olympic fishing barge. While it is pretty early for yellowtail to be in these waters, Capt. J. M. Andersen, skipper of the Olympic, states that the big game fish are being brought here by a minor change in the Japanese Current which is bringing a warm water stream close to Southern California shores.

Live bait boat fishermen are bringing back good-sized catches of barracuda, bass, halibut and some yellowtail. White fish and seatrout are also being hooked.

George Arliss Seen In "The Man Who Played God" at Torrance

George Arliss, whose portrayals of statesmen and laymen were nationally acclaimed, appears in a new guise in "The Man Who Played God," his latest starring vehicle for Warner Bros. Pictures, which comes to the Torrance Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Arliss turns his genius to the portrayal of genius in "The Man Who Played God." In this picture he plays the role of an internationally famous musician whose wizardry with melody places the world at his feet. He is adored by women, admired by men, numbering even kings among the thousands subject to the wonder of his music. Those intimate with him, however, respect him even more for his human qualities and kindness than for his musicianship.

"In The Man Who Played God," an adaptation of the stage play by Julian Josephson and Maude Howell from the story by Governor Morris, Arliss' "family circle" includes his solicitous and worshipping sister, portrayed by Louise Closser Hale, and his loyal secretary, played by Ivan Simpson. Two acquaintances, one a widow with whom he had been in love before she married another, the other a beautiful and charming young girl, are in love with him. The first does not tell him of her love because she believes him to be in love with the younger girl, who, on the other hand, is perfectly frank and outspoken in her avowal of love for the great Maestro. Violet Heming appears in the role of the widow and Bette Davis, a newcomer to the screen, is seen as the young debutante in love with the elderly musician.

"The Man Who Played God," presents full opportunity for Mr. Arliss to express human emotions. The drama is heightened by the sudden deafness which takes his music from the great musician and completely changes his life, thoughts and outlook on life. Metropolitan opinion concurs in acknowledging that Arliss' portrayal of "The Man Who Played God" is undoubtedly his supreme achievement to date.

Playlet Offered at Christian Church

"The Road to Happiness," a playlet by Rose Weaver, will be given at the Christian church Sunday night, April 17, by five members of the Redondo Christian church. The play is said to be exceptionally well done, and has been presented three times to capacity crowds at the young people's home church in Redondo. The Torrance public is invited to attend.

Torrance Cadets Chalk Up Wins As Ball Season Opens

The Torrance Military Academy, which got off to a flying start in its baseball season by beating St. John's, 9 to 7, and Hollywood, 9 to 3, failed to hold the pace and took a trimming at the hands of Black Foxe here Tuesday afternoon by a score of 20 to 3. The Cadets did everything in their power to halt the runaway Foxes, but the well known bunnies were spilled and by the time the batting streak was over Black Foxe had piled up a big lead. No disgrace attaches to the Torrance Mules, though, for their opponents are touted as the best in their class in the state.

Next Monday the Mules will play the Pacific Military Academy, and the Spanish-American Institute on Thursday, at the ball grounds at the corner of Carson and Border avenues.

Colonel Ingersoll had hoped that his lads would duplicate their performance of last fall when the football team cleaned all opponents, but the upset of Tuesday killed off any such expectations. However, the Mules are expected to win a big majority of their games.

Young Man Hurt As Car Overturns
